Big Four Proposes Berlin Be Made United City

GROUND-BREAKING STARTS BUSY PROGRAM FOR CHIEF EXECUTIVE IN NEW YORK

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower broke ground today for a 75-million-dollar cultural center and predicted it will be a mighty influence for world peace.

The President took part in ceremonies marking the start of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. He flew from Washington for the occasion.

The President's plane landed at the nearby Newark, N. J., airport and Eisenhower motored to New York after an airport greeting from Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and others.

A 33-man motorcycle escort ushered the President's car into Manhattan by way of the Lincoln Tunnel under the Hudson River. Eisenhower stood up in a bubble-top limousine and waved to about 300 persons lined up near the tunnel exit.

He responded in similar fashion to other greetings from citizens as his car proceeded across town.

The ground breaking at the cultural center was just one of the activities which will keep the President buzzing busily about Manhattan during the day and into the night.

In his talk Eisenhower said the center—which will include a new Metropolitan Opera House and a new home for the New York Philharmonic—will enrich the lives of people generally.

The site of the center, an area of three and a half blocks on 64th street west of Broadway, was cleared of run-down dwellings and other buildings for the huge construction project to be completed in 1963.

Eisenhower said the center symbolizes not only an increasing interest in America in cultural matters, but also is "a stimulating approach to one of the nation's pressing problems: urban blight."

"It is a cooperative venture in which federal and local government, artistic groups, large foundations and private citizens are joining forces," he said.

The President noted, too, that Fordham University is planning a new campus and buildings adjacent to the cultural center.

"All of us salute this magnificent effort," Eisenhower added.

After the ground breaking ceremonies Eisenhower goes to the New York Coliseum to look over displays in the international show of export goods from 63 countries.

At the fair, exhibiting nations will present him with a truckload of exotic gifts.

Four Die When Car Pursued by Police Crashes

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—An auto pursued by Warren police crashed head-on into another car early today, killing four.

One of the dead was William Visher, 26, of Hubbard Twp., who was being pursued along Ohio 5 by Warren Patrolmen James Julian and Leslie Edmunds.

The other three killed were in a car struck by Visher's auto, which the patrolmen said had crossed the highway centerline. Those three were Mrs. Edith Lenney, 41, and Mrs. Margaret List, about 55, both of nearby Oakfield, and Charles Shay, about 50, of Warren.

Ralph Lilly, 59, of Leavittsburg, driver of the car hit by Visher's was in fair condition at St. Joseph hospital.

NAVY BLIMP CRACKS UP ON LANDING

By RUSSELL M. MULLEN
LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP)—One

crewman was killed early today when a silvery Navy blimp crashed into a hangar while attempting to land in a dense fog.

Six crewmen were hospitalized and several others suffered minor injuries.

The wreckage was wedged in the hangar roof 150 feet above the ground.

Rescue workers clambered over the roof and removed the injured crewmen who had been trapped in the blimp's gondola.

Names of the dead man and the injured were withheld by the Navy pending notification of next of kin.

The freak accident left the wreckage near the top of the 150-foot high hangar. The whole roof-top was shrouded by the limp folds of the blimp's great gas bag.

Rescuers had to reach the scene with aerial ladders and then tunnel beneath the deflated bag to reach the gondola car where the injured lay. It had rammed partially through the hangar roof and remained stuck fast.

The ZPG-2 blimp was returning from a routine 21-hour anti-submarine patrol early this morning. It was making a radar-controlled instrument approach through a swirling fog that blanketed out everything more than 100 feet away.

"They probably never saw the ground until after the hit," said Lt. Cmdr. Herman Spahr, administrative officer of Squadron 3 to which the craft was attached.

Rescuers at first were unable to locate four officers and two men beneath the entangling sheets of the 343-foot long bag. They were found in the fore part of the metal alloy gondola.

After almost five hours one of the officers was pried loose. He was taken down a ladder strapped in a litter. The shirt of one of the litter bearers was smeared with blood.

The crew members in the rear of the car were unhurt and made their way down ladders to safety.

Spahr said rescuers had talked to the two trapped officers but were having difficulty freeing them.

Spahr said the landing was a "routine instrument approach, the same kind the commercial airlines make."

There was a total of eight officers and 10 enlisted men aboard.

Spahr said the blimp was about two years old. It is made up of the sausage-shaped balloon that holds the helium and the gondola car that hangs below it. The blimp's two motors are attached to the gondola.

Deviate Admits Kidnap Slaying Of Six-Year-Old

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A convicted sex-deviate held in a state mental institution has admitted, police said, the kidnapping and brutal slaying of Ben Wagner, 6, whose battered body was found in a roadside ditch nearly six weeks ago.

Booked today on a charge of first-degree murder was Harold W. McLaughlin, 28, who once was cleared of any connection with the case.

"He ran out of the car and I chased him," Detective Inspector Rudolph Glaser quoted McLaughlin as saying. "I caught him and held him with one arm and stabbed him three times with the knife I always carried in the car. He screamed and tried to fight me."

Ben, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wagner, was on the way with a young companion to buy ice cream for Ben's three sisters when he was lured into the car Saturday night, April 4. His body was found the next day in a ditch along a rural road 15 miles north of here.

McLaughlin, who had undergone treatment in a state institution in 1954, was recommitted last month after he was accused in a disorderly conduct warrant of luring a 5-year-old boy into his car a week before Ben was kidnapped.

The younger boy was released unharmed when his friends began to shout. Psychiatrists told the court McLaughlin was feeble-minded.

FOUR-PHASE PROGRAM IS INTRODUCED AT FOREIGN MINISTERS CONFERENCE

GENEVA (AP)—The Western powers proposed to Russia today that divided Berlin be made a united city under Big Four guarantees as the first step in a sweeping package plan to unify East and West Germany and begin global disarmament.

As a package the plan had no prospects of even serious consideration by Russia. Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has already rejected it as a "tangle" of unrelated issues. But parts of it, especially the Berlin proposal, conceivably could lead to some bargaining.

The massive, four-phase Western program was introduced in the fourth session of the Big Four foreign ministers conference as the Western response to Russia's demand that West Berlin be made a free city. It also countered Premier Nikita Khrushchev's call for a peace settlement with divided Germany.

The proposals provides for successive disarmament measures, including initial limits of 2½ million men in the armed forces of the United States and Russia, and leading eventually to limitation and possible withdrawal of all foreign troops (Soviet and Western) from Germany and neighboring areas.

It would unify Germany in 30 months. United Germany would be free to elect membership in either the Atlantic Alliance (NATO) or the Soviet bloc's Warsaw Pact or to choose a neutral policy.

Whatever the choice, the big powers, Germany and other European countries would take steps to avoid any change in the East-West balance of power and could enter into agreements against aggression. Western leaders have long expressed confidence Germany would line up with the West.

Berlin, in the first phase of the package program, would be united by "free elections to be held through all Berlin under supervision" of either the big powers or the United Nations. The United States would keep their troops until the final German peace settlement provided for in the fourth phase.

A city council would be responsible for administering the whole city under the general supervision of the Big Four, but the powers could intervene in city affairs only by unanimous vote. How this arrangement would affect East Germany's capital in East Berlin was not stated.

The West made a compromise approach to Russia's demand that East and West Germany must negotiate reunification directly between themselves.

As an alternative, the United States, Britain and France reportedly will demand that their right to remain in Berlin and their right of access to the city be spelled out, with the East Germans as well as the Soviets underwriting (Turn to Page Twenty)

"Pinky Puppets" for Patients

Happy is the boy with a bright new toy!—even though he is a patient in the charming Pediatrics department at Warren General Hospital, small "Bobby" has been considerably cheered upon receiving his "Pinky Puppet" doll, a gift from the Hospital Auxiliary.

Upholding its reputation for thoughtfulness in providing as many facilities as possible to make Warren General Hospital a pleasant place, members of the Hospital Auxiliary yesterday initiated a wonderful new project designed specifically for youngsters.

Each small child admitted to the hospital is to be given the adorable puppet to alleviate the strangeness of a child's stay away from home. The dolls are made to go over the hand and are created in the same color as Auxiliary uniforms, a cheery, cherry red. Each toy has a doll face lovingly stitched into a peaked cap. Closed sleeves and an inside head opening allow little fingers to work the puppet.

These dolls are sturdily made and will be a lasting memento after the hospital stay is terminated. According to child psychologists, "Pinky Puppet" is an ideal toy; safe, clean, soft and allowing considerable imaginative play. They were hand made by members of the Hospital Auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. H. L. MacBride.

In addition to the auxiliary members who worked countless hours sewing the dolls, the Pleasant township Senior Girl Scout Troop; a group from Epworth Methodist Church and one from First Presbyterian church devoted days to complete the gifts.

Production will be continued in order to assure each small patient his or her own "Pinky Puppet" when entering Warren General Hospital.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Someday the daughter of the Edward L. Fossett may ask for birthday parties on both May 4 and ....

The clock in a Lexington hospital showed 12:25 a.m. May 5 when the baby was born.

But in view of Kentucky's varying time zones Fossett, an assistant attorney general, asked the opinion of a colleague.

The reply: Lexington is on daylight saving time but state law prohibits the official use of any other time than standard. So the child was born Monday night—at least officially.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—

Television cowboy Dale Robertson turned up in Oklahoma's House of Representatives Wednesday to plug for legal horse racing and pari-mutual betting in his home state.

He said he saw nothing sinful about horse racing and noted that the Queen of England "and a lot of other prominent people" go to the races.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—

His wife says there isn't anything wrong with nightclub and TV comedian Jonathan Winters except that he needs a rest.

She had him removed from San Francisco General Hospital Wednesday night to rest home. He was taken to the hospital by harbor police Tuesday after a ticket taker on a museum ship reported his behavior as unusual.

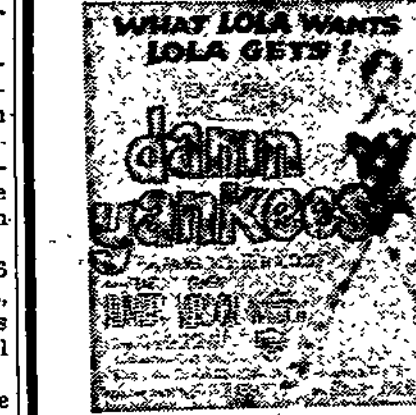

His wife, Eileen, flew out Wednesday from Mammoth, N.Y.

Dr. T. E. Albers, the hospital superintendent, said that Winters was "quite disturbed. He is definitely in need of further care."

Narrator for The Scout Pageant Is Announced

Leroy Schneck, program manager for WNAE, will be narrator for the Chief Cornplanter Pageant to be given at the Boy Scout County Fair on Friday and Saturday, May 15-16.

In announcing Mr. Schneck's acceptance of the job as narrator, William Muir, General Chairman of the Scout Fair, said that he felt Mr. Schneck's reading of the Pageant would make it most interesting to the public.

The Cornplanter Pageant is written to portray six significant episodes in the life of the great Chief; his youth, his capture of his father during General Sullivan's campaign in 1779, his meeting with George Washington, his dealings with the Quaker missionaries, the historic attempt to levy taxes on the Indians, and finally Chief Cornplanter's address to the citizens of Warren.

The Pageant will be given at 7:30 p. m. on Friday evening and again at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday. Preceding Friday's presentation, a team of Indian dancers from Bradford will give a program.

On Saturday evening the council's finals in the Cub Scout Pinewood Derby will be held. Last year's Fair audience will remember the excitement developed by these miniature racers which are made by the Cub Scouts themselves.

Word has been received that a patrol of the 1st Smoos Scout Troop of Canada will again be guests of the Council.

MAILBOX IMPROVEMENT WEEK

The period May 18 to 23, has been designated as National Mailbox Improvement Week, which has become an annual observance sponsored by the Post Office Department. In this connection it is interesting to note the Warren-Forest County Postmasters' Association is placing special emphasis on occasion because of the fact that last winter is reported to have been especially tough on mailboxes. As a result more of them need attention than ever before, hampering carriers in their delivery of mail.

During the observance special effort will be made to impress on rural patrons the importance of providing properly mounted and maintained boxes for the receipt of their mail. Routes are inspected and those whose boxes require attention are notified and requested to get them in proper condition to meet Post Office Department specifications. It is especially important that boxes be properly identified by name, in letters at least 1" high. Also boxes must be securely, and properly mounted with approaches in good condition so the carrier can reach them easily from his vehicle.

An innovation this year is a form provided by the P.O.D. by which those whose mailboxes are in exemplary condition may be commended. A pre-inspection tour of the Warren routes indicates there will be relatively few of these handed out by the Warren postmaster this year. There are far more boxes needing attention than deserving commendation. Patrons with boxes in bad condition will receive an entirely different kind of form calling attention to the deficiencies and requesting that correction be made immediately. In cases of continued non-compliance recommendation will be made to discontinue mail service until satisfactory mailboxes are provided.

To prevent misdelivery of mail and possible interruption of mail service it behooves rural (and Mounted Route) patrons to get their mailboxes in good condition at once as all route inspections will be completed within the next two weeks.

Now is the time to start planning to participate in National Mailbox Improvement Week starting Monday!

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One year ago Friday Vice President Nixon returned from that disastrous Latin American trip in which he was stoned and spat upon.

There was nothing personal in the treatment he got. It was this country's southern neighbors—or some factions of them—expressing their attitude toward the United States. Nixon called at once for a reappraisal of our policy toward Latin America.

In the year that has passed what has been done to improve that policy? And what is the attitude of Latin Americans toward the United States now?

This country has taken a number of steps toward closer cooperation with, and more understanding for, Latin America. But the attitude of the people there toward the United States is far from all good.

Only two months ago a group of South American publishing and broadcasting executives, visiting this country, said the United States is losing friends fast in their homeland.

Very recently Associated Press correspondents in the capitals of 10 South American republics questioned students, workers, politicians, editors, businessmen and labor leaders to find out how our neighbors feel now.

The answer was: almost no change. Relations with the United States in some countries have deteriorated. In others—for example, Argentina and Brazil—some improvement was noted.

But the 10 correspondents reported that the great masses of the people have not felt any change. Most answers to the question of how the United States could improve the situation came to this: money and more tact in administering aid.

Both at the time of Nixon's mistreatment and since, Communists have been blamed as the nucleus of the attacks on the vice president and the continuing anti-United States feeling there.

The charge that the United States has played too cozy with Latin American dictators has been thrown at this country often. Nixon was aware of it on his trip. So was President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, who visited Latin America after Nixon's trip.

Both came back recommending a much stiffer American attitude toward dictators.

Here are things the United States has done in the past year to improve the situation:

The Eisenhower administration has backed and will approve the billion dollar Inter-American Development Bank to make loans in Latin America; it has asked and backed increases in the capital of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund from which Latin American nations as well as others benefit.

The administration is asking Congress for a 25 per cent increase in technical assistance funds for Latin America in 1960; the U.S. Development Loan Fund is stepping up its credits to Latin American nations; and moves are under way to encourage further the already big flow of U.S. private investments into Latin America.

These actions, if carried through, may seem plentiful to a U.S. citizen. To a Latin American, they still may seem too little.

Here and There

The following article that appeared in the Warren Mirror, May 14, 1899, entitled "Warren Seventy Years Ago" makes an interesting reading for present-day residents: "That time works wonders is exemplified by a description of Warren which appeared in the Warren Gazette of January 22, 1829. This was the second newspaper published in Warren county. The first was published February 18, 1826. Archibald Tanner and Lansing Wetmore were the proprietors and Morgan Bates the publisher. The issue referred to undoubtedly was what would be termed in the parlance of later-day publishers as a 'boom' edition. Here is what it says of the village that has developed into our present substantial and progressive borough: Warren, the county seat, is situated on a level plain of about 300 acres on the north bank of the Allegheny and west of the Conewango creek at the juncture of those two streams. The town is principally built along the river. The bank is about 40 feet high and commands a fine view of the river, above and below. It is acknowledged on all hands to be one of the most eligible and handsome situations for a town along the river. It was laid out by the authority of the state and the lots sold by the Commissioner appointed for that purpose. The town plot consists of 300 lots, one-third of an acre each, laid out in blocks of 16 lots each. The streets run on every side of these blocks and cross at right angles. The principal streets are one hundred feet wide, and the others sixty. Near the center of the plot and at the crossing of two 100 foot streets, four lots of an acre each, are left for public buildings. This is called the Diamond. The only public buildings we can boast of is a brick court house and public offices of stone, fire proof. The court house is not large, but neat, and convenient, substantially built, and well finished with well toned bell in its weighing, with the yoke, 362 pounds. We have a jail, also, though it has once or twice been mistaken for a turkypen. Our village contains fifty dwelling houses, mostly frame, two stories high, finished and painted white, and tenanted. Five stores, (well filled), three taverns, two tanneries, two chair-makers, and a wheelwright, one cabinet-maker, two carpenters and joiners, one hatter, one wagon maker, six lawyers, two doctors, one baker, two masons, six free masons, two saw mills and grist mill. (Wanted, a good clothier, carding-machine and silversmith.)

Today, the 14th of May, the Women's Army Corps celebrates 17 years of proud and faithful service. The largest group of women to wear the uniform of the United States, the WAC occupies a place of honor alongside the men of the Army. There is nothing new about American women in the military service, particularly in the time of war. They have served in national crises since Molly Pitcher during the American Revolution and Clara Barton of Civil War fame. In World War I, General Pershing urgently asked for women to serve with the Army overseas—and the response was immediate. The devoted service of our women in World War II added another chapter; and, during the Korean Conflict, they continued to contribute still further to their proud record. On May 14th, 1942, the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps (WAAC) became the first group of volunteers to be organized to release our fighting men for combat. A year later, the name was changed to WAC and they were given full military standing for the duration of the war. No longer was there any question (if there ever was) as to the need for the WAC. In 1948, the law making the Women's Army Corps a permanent part of the Regular Army was fitting and final recognition of their indispensable role in the military phase of our national life. Every WAC takes pride in being able to do her job well. During the past 17 years, the WAC at home and abroad has performed over 150 jobs in 26 different career fields. Combined with their brothers in service, WACS are accomplishing a task that is of vital importance to the security and well-being of our nation in time of peace or war.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★ Inflation Not the Goblin It Seems, Says Dean Wallis

BY PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There hasn't been as much inflation in the United States as many people seem to think, in the opinion of Dean Allen Wallis, of Chicago University's School of Business.

Dr. Wallis is a newcomer to Washington, as vice chairman and executive director of President Eisenhower's Cabinet Committee on Price Stability and Economic Growth.

There hasn't been much inflation in the last year, Dr. Wallis points out. There hasn't even been much in the last seven years, he adds. The exception was in the period of first quarter of 1956 to first quarter of 1958, when there was a 7 1/2 per cent increase in the consumer's price index, or cost of living.

Prices used to go up and down says Dr. Wallis, continuing his lecture. If prices still went up and down, things would presumably be normal and nobody would worry.

BUT SINCE 1932, prices have been going up rather steadily, with the exception of two short drops. They were in 1937-38 and 1948-49. In World War I and II and the Korean War, prices went way up. Those were the times when people really got concerned. There were no price controls in World War I. They were tried in World War II and controls were kept on some things into 1953. There have been several proposals to give President Eisenhower powers to control prices in a future emergency, but nothing has come of them so far.

Some proposals to control prices would have the effect of stifling economic growth, Dr. Wallis believes. Price controllers talk about "equity" and "ability to pay" for protection of people who have retired and live on savings.

BUT PRICE STABILITY, Dr. Wallis insists, should not be the objective. Price stability is merely a means to an end; productive efficiency with a rising standard of living and economic growth.

If the economy is really efficient, says Dr. Wallis, prices will simply reflect how scarce or abundant things are.

These views of the man who will direct the work on the Eisenhower administration's newest cabinet level committee studying the economy are stimulating, to say the least.

But they may be no more surprising than some of his views on wages and profits.

He thinks there are a lot of enlightened views going around about wages. He says wages have been going up ever since the Pilgrims landed, and keeping wages down is also not an end in itself. For advancing wage levels have been responsible for the rising American standard of living.

This is reasoning similar to that used by many labor union negotiators in bargaining for wage raises.

But on another angle of this wage situation, Dr. Wallis differs with many union officials who say that recent reports on high corporation profits show that business has the capacity to pay higher wages without raising prices.

PROFITS SHOULDN'T be judged on one quarter, says Dr. Wallis. They have to be studied over long periods, to balance off periods of loss. Profits are no criterion of what wage levels ought to be. The Chicago economist is equally critical of management in its claim that high profits are needed so that business can expand. For profits obviously are not the sole source of capital needed.

Other economists, industrial tycoons and labor barons can take these views and argue among themselves as to their orthodoxy or heresy. Coming from an official in Dr. Wallis' new position, they may give some clue on the kind of thinking influencing the cabinet committee policies.

wealth of stamens is a family characteristic, and so is the fruit, whether it be an apple or a rose hip, a pear or a Juneberry. Adam knew the apple, in some form. But now, in May, the fruit is a matter for tomorrow, next month, some future time of harvest. Now the rose-kin all around us are sheer beauty, and we ask no more of them. Orchards are massed bouquets. Woodlands are adorned with the rose-cousins in full glory. The petals shimmer. The pollen lures the bees. The May sun dances and the May air sings in celebration. Adam may have eaten the apple, but in May we can be sure that Eve wore apple blossoms in her hair.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen
 (© 1958: By The Chicago Tribune)

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

1958 CATASTROPHES
 Acute diseases were responsible for 40 per cent of all deaths at the turn of the century. These were the illnesses that developed rapidly and reached a crisis within a short time. The majority were infections. The situation has changed and fewer than 10 per cent now die of infections and contagious diseases. Chronic ailments account for 81 per cent of all fatalities. The majority of these are afflictions of old age that are slowly progressive and of long duration. Hardening of the arteries, heart disease, cancer, and mental disturbances are the commonest.

When five or more persons are killed in an accident, statisticians refer to the tragedy as a catastrophe. In 1958 there were 10 major catastrophes in this country. Included were the Chicago school fire that took the lives of 90 pupils and three nuns. The four plane crashes that occurred over Los Angeles, Las Vegas, Midland, Mich., and Nantucket, Mass., led to a toll of 169.

The passenger train that plunged into the bay near Bayonne, N. J., took 48 lives; the school bus that went into a river in Kentucky drowned 27; the freighter that sank in Lake Michigan accounted for 33 fatalities, and the poisonous liquor sold in New York killed 27.

The only natural disasters were the group of tornadoes that struck Wisconsin, causing 30 fatalities.

All these statistics sound grim but the Metropolitan Life Insurance company reports that the loss of life in natural catastrophes that occurred in 1958 was the lowest since 1951. These statisticians looked hard for the silver lining. Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: Nasal polyps and allergy

CHECKUP
 Mrs. J. writes My physician is always bragging about his schooling and degrees. Is there any way I can check up on him?

REPLY
 If his diplomas and license are not on the wall ask to see them. If they are not available, ask the name of his medical school and write to it for verification. Or call his hospital, the local or state medical society, or the American Medical association, or write to the state department of registration. The directory of the American Medical association is another source. If your physician is a specialist, look up his credentials in the directory of medical specialists.

VENTILATION NEEDED
 D. K. writes: Some people tell me it is better not to open the bedroom windows at night. Please comment.

REPLY
 This was regarded as sound advice 100 or more years ago when infections were blamed on damp night air instead of bacteria. Most people sleep better in a well ventilated room.

BLOOD FAT LEVEL
 R. P. writes: What can be done about fat in the blood?

REPLY
 Nothing need be done when tests show the presence of normal amounts. Among the various ways of reducing an elevated level are the use of thyroid extract, nicotinic acid, plant sterols, vegetable oils, exercise, and a low fat diet.

ONE MEAL A DAY
 T. B. writes: I'm 78 and take coffee and grapefruit for breakfast. I don't feel like eating until evening, when I have a good meal. My health is excellent. Is there any reason to change my routine?

REPLY
 No Your way of life may not suit the needs of others, but for you it is proving satisfactory.

Today's Health Hint—
 The nearsighted child should be encouraged to indulge in physical activities and not spend all his time reading.

LONDON (AP)—England, like many continental European countries, ranks its autos as the fastest growing dollar earner.

English car makers are increasing output and say this year's overseas orders are so good that production is their chief problem. Like optimism oozes from automakers in Germany, France and Italy.

It's a one way street.

U.S. auto exports have been falling and its auto imports rising—sometimes doubling from year to year. These European cars still constitute a minor share of the U.S. domestic market. But Detroit isn't happy about losing its overseas sales.

It has offset this to some extent by putting plants on this side of the Atlantic. These cater to the European taste in cars. They get the advantages of lower production costs in most cases. And they escape the heavy duty and sometimes import curbs which American made cars face. In some cases these American overseas plants ship their cars to America.

But the non-American made models have been cleaning up. British Motor Corp. officials predict they'll send 100,000 cars to North America this year, or twice last year's figure. Standard Motor's overseas sales so far are 50 per cent ahead of last year. Rootes Autos says its U.S. sales are running 74 per cent ahead of 1958.

But the British are running into stiffer competition on the continent and their exports there are down.

The common market's shrinking trade barriers has put car makers there to push sales in the United States this year.

All anxiously eye Detroit's upcoming debut of smaller American cars but insist that shouldn't bite into their own American market, which they call a special one. That, of course, remains to be seen.

Domestic markets in England, France, Italy and Germany are expected to grow this year because installment buying is beginning to catch on after the pattern long common in America.

But the American made car is in danger of becoming a disappearing species on this side of the Atlantic.

Europeans give several reasons. The Detroit product is too big to handle in the narrow streets of many European cities; it is what some call ostentatious and others deem vulgar; it eats up more gas—and gas prices are terrific here with taxes exorbitant by American standards; most European governments levy an annual tax on autos based on horsepower, and American models have been upping their power steadily.

If She Acted Otherwise She Wouldn't Be Teen-Ager

Don't expect a teen-age girl—To see the future scientist in a skinny high school "brain" whose idea of what to talk about on a date is chemistry.

To have any telephone conversations that last under half an hour. To think she's lucky because doing the dishes just means loading a dishwasher.

To leave the house for any reason short of a four-alarm fire if she is expecting a telephone call from her current "steady."

To realize that there can actually be a worse tragedy than to have something happen to her crowning glory—whether it's a too-permanent, a too-short clipping or a sudden straightening of the home-set waves before an important party.

To want to be different from the crowd.

To be able to concentrate on anything without the help of her record player or radio.

To admit that she doesn't have the strictest parents of any girl she knows.

To see any disadvantage to steady dating.

To be impressed with what was considered proper when her mother was a girl.

To be flattered when told that she looks like her mother.

To sit around home if there is anything going on anywhere else.

To be able to get along without a "best friend" to talk things over with.

To think it's a compliment for a girl to be known as intelligent.

Warren County Principals' Group Has Dinner-Meeting and Election

Elementary Principal's Association of the Warren county schools held its spring dinner-meeting at Irvine School, with Miss Helen Driscoll, principal, as hostess. Ladies of the Irvine community served a delicious dinner at tables beautifully decorated in a spring motif with lilies, narcissus and tulips.

Following dinner, Archie Hunter, president, conducted the business session. Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Mrs. Marie Boardman; vice president, Mrs. Marjorie Dorrian; secretary, Mrs. Edith Lawson; treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Gustafson.

Richard Hess, director of special education, explained procedures to be followed by the school principals in any follow-up work concerning the present pre-school-testing program.

Robert Hockenberry, assistant county superintendent, announced dates for the County Institute sessions to be held next fall, with August 31 for all schools; September 1 for those schools not under supervising principals.

Mr. Hockenberry also asked that all principals complete and summarize their Philosophy of Education, so that all schools will begin their School Evaluation Program in September.

Mr. Hunter called on John Mallory, county superintendent, who expressed his pleasure in the work accomplished by the association since its organization, and hoped that through fellowship and cooperation of members, to see the association continue in its professional growth.

Mr. Hockenberry introduced Dr. Paul W. Bixby, assistant dean of continuing education at Pennsylvania State University. Dr. Bixby gave a truly inspiring talk on the necessity for World Brotherhood, emphasizing throughout his address that educational leaders must have the facts, formula and ability to communicate these facts to all people in this rapidly shrinking world—that we must transcend the entire history of nationalism to promote thinking in terms of global living.

Dr. Bixby gave many interesting illustrations of the difficulties he experienced in his travels in Ethiopia, The Philippines and Indonesia, chiefly because of the language difference, and said that we must teach more languages in all of our schools.

To conclude the evening's program, Robert McCullough, teacher in Irvine School, entertained with several accordion selections.

Mr. Hunter thanked officers and committees for cooperation during his two years as president, and presented the newly-elected officers for the coming year.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One way to tell a person's age is by his attitude toward cocktail parties.

If he looks forward to cocktail parties and feels each one is exciting and different, he is very young.

But the more he attends the more all seem alike. The modern cocktail party, like the modern bull fight—which in a way it resembles—has its own ceremony and ritual. But in time cocktail parties become as hard to tell apart as mothballs.

The only difference between one's first cocktail party and one's thousand and first are the date—and a feeling of gathering numbness.

But that feeling of numbness is important. It is the hallmark of the successful cocktail party.

Everything about the cocktail party is formalized and more predictable than the weather. The food, the drink, the guests—even the conversation—follow an inexorable and changeless pattern.

There is always a tray of those gnat-bite-sized sandwiches made of new wallboard and old library paste. There is always a pot of caviar. This is supposed to make you feel like you're enjoying an orgy at the court of Catherine the Great. But the stuff usually tastes as if it had been made the night before by the hostess out of fish oil and leftover pellets from her son's air rifle.

The drunks at a cocktail party fall into two classes. If the host is cheap they are weak and watery. If the host is really trying to impress somebody, the drunks are so loaded one has the feeling he has just accepted a double-barreled shotgun—aimed at his head.

The guests at a cocktail party seem so normal and human when they first come into the room. Just a bit reserved perhaps. But an hour later all the shy Dr. Jekylls have magically turned into leering, pawing Dr. Hydres.

The sedate businessman suddenly wants to prove he can still drink a martini while standing on his head on the sofa, a feat he learned in college. The prime housewife all at once begins to act like she was the daughter of a marriage between Dracula and Mata Hari.

And everyone who had so little to say on arrival now becomes a person with a message of salvation for all mankind. They put their foreheads together and begin shouting at the top of their lungs. This isn't conversation. It is baboon babble.

Psychiatrists are divided on why people throw cocktail parties. One school holds it is merely an easy way to pay off social debts en masse. The other school holds that it is an unconscious and sadistic attempt by the host to exact social revenge on people he secretly detests.

Probably both schools of thought are right.

The problem remains as to why a husband ever goes to a cocktail party. The answer here is very clear.

He goes because somebody mailed him the invitation. And the modern wife will drag her husband to anything she's invited to—including, probably, a blood transfusion. Anything to get out of the house.

A sound principle of competitive bidding is to keep on when you are sure that the opponents will be able to bring home their contract and know that you can't be hurt if you compete

Now take a look at the South hand only. Your partner opens with one club and you should respond a spade. Only four high card points but you do have a reasonable spade suit and a singleton diamond.

Normally you will be through bidding but West doubles, your partner redoubles. East bids two hearts, you pass. West bids three hearts, your partner goes to three spades and East bids four hearts.

Dr. William Lipton of New York, who held the South hand, promptly went to four spades in accordance with the first paragraph principle.

He was right that the opponents could make four hearts. He was pleasantly surprised to make his four spades. West opened the king of hearts and shifted to the king and queen of diamonds. Doc trumped, trumped a heart with dummy's ace, returned to his hand with the queen of trumps, trumped his last heart with dummy's king, drew trumps and eventually lost a trick to the queen of clubs.

State's Programs For Blind Draws Sharp Criticism

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's programs for the blind were sharply criticized before a Senate committee probing the Public Welfare Department.

William Taylor Jr., of Media, Federation of the Blind, called for a reorganization of the state council for the blind as a first step toward improving services.

In a statement prepared for delivery before the five-member committee, Taylor asserted:

"The blind of Pennsylvania appeal to the members of the Senate for relief from the unnecessary hardships and deprivations suffered because of the inefficiency and ineffectiveness of the operations of the State Council for the Blind."

The council was established by a 1925 law designating a board composed of the secretaries of welfare and labor and industry, public instruction superintendent and four members named by the governor.

Taylor said the board's membership should be expanded to include representatives of organizations of the blind. He urged decentralization of the council's program and the hiring of persons who could keep a constant check on the council's spending.

Taylor said benefits received by the blind "are inexcusably meager when compared with the funds made available" by the state and federal governments for rehabilitation programs.

RADIO and TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Lonesome George Gobel, low-key comedy, guitar and all, is off American TV until fall. Then he'll return to alternate weekly with Jack Benny.

But pint-sized George won't veggie out over the summer; he'll keep in professional shape with plenty of roadwork.

From a stay in Las Vegas, Gobel recently opened at the Waldorf-Astoria's Empire Room. After a month here, he takes off for England to do a couple of TV shows for its commercial network.

Gobel's scrapbooks are full of critical raves about his supper club act. But he isn't kidding when he says he's worried about how the British are going to take his very special brand of comedy.

"Every place is different," he fumes. "Every audience is different. There's a lot of difference, for instance, between playing in a great big room with a big stage in Las Vegas and in a supper club in New York. There's a whoop-it-up spirit in Las Vegas—everyone out there is out for a good time. You get bigger laughs; you feel right away that people are going to laugh loud.

"In New York here, the laughs aren't so big — people chuckle. They're quieter, perhaps more appreciative, and it's a much easier place to set a ballad. I think I like an intimate room with a quieter crowd."

But it's the evocation of laughter in the nation's living room that gives the comedians their ulcers.

"The same type of material you use in a night club goes on television," Gobel continued earnestly. "Except that until you do it until it's gone—you don't know whether it is any good or not, and then it's too late. In Las Vegas, for instance, you can work your materials for a week or so and get everything all straightened out — the jokes and the timing. But on TV you only get one run with them."

The TV studio audience, says

Gobel, is "absolutely essential to the comedian."
"Those audiences change from week to week, too," he says. "But they are there to help the performers, not to help the home audience that it's time to laugh. We'd never get anywhere if we were playing to a big vacuum. And you know right away whether you've got a good show or not."

Camera Club Holds Meeting

The Mather Memorial Camera Club, a newly formed photographic group in Warren county, in their regular bi-weekly meeting at the library heard Ernest C. Miller, noted local petroleum historian give an interesting talk on the life and experience of pioneer photographer, John Mather.

Mr. Miller told that Mather arrived in Titusville during October 1880 and opened a photographic studio. He then proceeded to photograph every phase of the infant oil industry. As a result, his efforts have provided the oil industry with the most documented history of any of the world's major industries.

Mr. Miller illustrated his talk with several newspaper clippings and a book of Mather photographs.

He also pointed out that about 200 photographs exist which have been identified as depicting Warren County scenes during the oil excitement days. Mr. Miller suggested that the local club explore means of providing the Warren County Historical Society with copies of all photographs made by Mather in Warren County.

The photographic group chose the name "Mather Memorial Camera Club" in honor of Mather and in recognition of his technical proficiency and the contribution he made to the petroleum industry and area history.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Can show business take another Rooney? Apparently it will have to, because young Teddy's career is booming in a manner that recalls his famous father, Mickey.

Teddy started late. He was all of 8 before he made his acting debut. His old man started by crawling onstage during his parents' vaudeville act.

Now a mature 9, Teddy relaxed in the den of his Sherman Oaks home after school and reminisced about his acting days.

"I've had fun," he mused. "The best part is that when I work, I only have three hours of school work. When I don't work, I have to go six hours a day! That's terrible."

See what I mean about the resemblance to his pa?

Teddy's mother, actress Martha Vickers says "Teddy is very much like his father in the way he does things. He throws his whole heart and soul into it, whether he's playing a role or second base, for the

Joint Committee Holds Meeting At Youngsville

At the May meeting of Brokenstraw Valley Joint School Committee, held in the Youngsville High School building, Principal Jesse Lyon reported in detail on various activities relative to the end of the school year.

He announced the Commencement speaker, Philip Geary, will use the topic "This Is Your World", and presented for board approval the list of seniors who will be eligible to receive diplomas upon completion of the year's work.

Committee members gave their approval of the list; also renewal for a three-year term of the transportation contract held by Michael Arden; and election of Mrs. Gloria Valone, Warren, as teacher of English in the Junior High School.

Mrs. Valone is a graduate of Ohio Northern University, has done additional work at New York University and Edinboro State Teachers' College, and fills a vacancy created by resignation of Miss Jane McKee.

There was discussion at some length of the possibility of lengthening the contract year for teachers to 183 days, in order to provide time during the school year for an in-service program and a work day at the end of the term for records and reports. The matter was referred to the budget committee for its further consideration and recommendation to the board.

The board accepted as a gift a dental chair which had been offered to the schools by Dr. J. D. Shortt, of Warren, who plans to discontinue his practice and desires that some school have the advantage of this kind of equipment.

Youngsville National Bank was named treasurer of the Joint School System for the school year beginning July 6, 1959.

The librarian's report showed a total April circulation of 1,587 values, with a daily average of 72. This report also announced a check for $25 has been given the school library for purchase of Memorial Books honoring the late John Mourer, Class of 1952.

Sheffield Township School Board Meets

SHEFFIELD — Holding its monthly meeting May 11, Sheffield Township School Board re-elected Robert Jones to serve as treasurer in the new term beginning July 9, 1959; and voted acceptance of routine reports presented by the treasurer, nurse and statisticians.

Because of lack of information concerning assessed valuation of property in the district, it was necessary to delay adoption of the budget for the 1959-60 school year until an adjourned session is called at some future date.

Exonerations by county commissioners and the list of property taxes returned were accepted; approval for payment was given current bills in the amount of $13,228.64, including $13,000 to the Joint Board treasurer.

School Board at Sheffield Adopts $212,865 Budget

SHEFFIELD — In addition to adopting a 1959-60 school budget in the sum of $212,865 at its May meeting, Sheffield Area Joint School Board received from Supervising Principal Thomas K. Barratt a report that the Department of Public Instruction has appointed a building consultant, Mr. Groover, from the Department, for the elementary school building project.

He also reported the petition for approval of the site of the new school, adjacent to the site of the high school building, has been forwarded to the Department, following endorsement by the County Board of School Directors and local representative of the Department of Health.

John Carvody was appointed to represent the Joint Board in distributing diplomas to the 1959 graduating class; Robert Jones was re-elected treasurer of the Joint Board for the term beginning July 9, 1959; Miss Parton and two representatives of Future Homemakers of America were authorized to attend the state FHA convention at Pennsylvania State University June 8, 9 and 10.

Bills in the amount of $2,891.98 were approved for payment; bids in the amount of $481 for custodial supplies were accepted; George Sevesko was employed as summer grounds keeper for the schools.

The school calendar for next year, coinciding with other county school, was adopted, the opening teacher meeting to be August 31, first day of school September 1. There will be 180 full teaching days; teachers will have an additional five days, including June 6-7, for completing grading and records; report cards will be mailed to students June 8, 1960; and graduation will be June 2, next year.

A list of summer maintenance and construction projects turned over to the building and grounds committee included items relating to changes in the high school building asked for by the Department of Labor and Industry because of recent fire hazard inspections.

Until the same department makes clear its position concerning use of the Methodist church basement for kindergarten classes, the Board felt it could take no action on whether or not it could undertake such operation until the new elementary school is built.

Following discussion of adult education courses, Mr. Barratt was authorized to seek information regarding adult interests in the community. If sufficient interest exists, it is planned to begin operation of a program in adult education in September, 1959. Those interested in such instruction are asked to contact Mr. Barratt.

Accepted with regret was the resignation, effective June 6, of Mrs. Charles Christenson, school nurse. Applications for this position, beginning August 31, will be accepted in Mr. Barratt's office, also, with full particulars available from him.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork and chicken, which rate near the top of any housewife's shopping list when she's bargain hunting, should be right up there again this weekend.

The nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores offer a wide list of specials on various pork cuts. Frying chickens predominate among ads featuring fowl.

Most of the pork deals are for the less expensive cuts such as small picnic hams, fresh and smoked butts and smoked shoulders. Smoked hams and bacon also are offered, but not as widely.

The large number of pork items reflect marketings from last fall's 17 per cent greater pig crop. These porkers, plus expectations of a 13 per cent rise in spring pigs, are expected to boost output substantially ahead of 1958.

Fryer prices, on the downgrade for some time, are slashed another 2 to 10 cents a pound in a number of areas.

Eggs also are on the toboggan, dropping 2 to 4 cents a dozen over a wide area.

Special buys on fish are uncommon at this time of year, but rising imports of shrimp have forced prices lower despite smaller catches by U.S. fishermen.

Best vegetables this week are asparagus, iceberg lettuce (although somewhat variable in quality and condition), carrots, celery, new cabbage, portatoes, red radishes, spinach and green or white onions.

Fruit features now are Florida oranges and grapefruit, California Valencia and naval oranges, lemons, bananas, pineapples and a few remaining apples if you shop carefully. Increasing shipments make strawberries look pretty good, too, while Western pears and watermelons also are good buys.

Public Invited to Ground Breaking For New School

Marking the beginning of the future Warren Area High school, a formal ground breaking ceremony is planned for Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. on the hill where the three-million dollar structure will one day stand.

Following the traditional band rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner", the Rev. A. Culmer Schultz will give the invocation. Invited for the observance are Melvin G. Keller, president of the Warren Area School board; Joseph V. Passaro, high school principal; John Mallory, Jr., county superintendent; Burgess William E. Rice and Blain Mead, county commissioner.

Dr. Carl Whipple, borough school superintendent and C. C. Winans are named as master of ceremony for the impressive occasion.

The program will conclude with the Dragon band playing the familiar Alma Mater, and it is hoped that many interested citizens will take time to attend the function.

In case of inclement weather, the ground-breaking ceremony will be postponed until Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m.

Discussion Over Aid to Schools Are Conflicting

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—House Republicans today cut in half a previous claim that the proposed 705-million-dollar budget for state aid to schools can be chopped by as much as 40 million dollars.

Rep. Stanley G. Stroup (R-Bedford) conceded the top figure on a budget reduction in this field would be about 20 million dollars. But Chairman J. Dean Polen (D-Washington) of the House Appropriations Committee insisted that any slashes won't exceed 10 million dollars.

Stroup said the Public Instruction Department has over-estimated the needs for state aid for school construction. He pointed out that 18 millions of a 47-million-dollar appropriation for the two years ending May 31 remains unspent. The department is asking for nearly 54½ millions in the next two years.

"They (the department) aren't sure of their figures right now but I feel they are 20 millions too high," he told the Associated Press.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, told the House earlier in the week that the department budget can be reduced by as much as 40 million dollars.

Polen called a public hearing by his committee Wednesday night to look into Johnson's claim. Johnson didn't show up but Stroup represented him.

DRIVER SWERVED

Joseph A. Massa, Warren High instructor who was injured in an auto accident near Cassadaga Monday which claimed the life of his wife, is reported to have explained that the other driver involved came around an "S" curve and lost control of his car. Massa is quoted as saying the oncoming car went onto the left side of the highway (toward Massa), pulled back toward the right then shot back to the left side again, striking the Massa car. Damage to the cars and their positions after the impact, tend to prove the statement Joe continues to improve in WCA Hospital in Jamestown.

Women Golfers Enjoy Initial Event Of Summer Season at Country Club

Afternoon rains failed to dampen the spirits of the Conewago Valley Country Club ladies yesterday, as an unusually large number turned out for the opening day of golf.

Mrs. Beverly Walters, chairman for the affair, with Mrs. Evelyn Dahler, Mrs. Anne Blackman and Mrs. Lyle Knapp supervised a delightful miniature golf contest. The small course was carefully laid out and contained several challenging shots.

Many golfers were able to complete a 9-hole game but dampness necessitated a quick change. Other members eventually played 3 holes on the club porch.

Numerous prizes were awarded to the following: Mrs. Jean Crossett, Mrs. Rod Walsh, Mrs. Betty Jane Fisher, Mrs. Helen Culbertson, Mrs. Mary Saunders, Mrs. Dorothy Newmaker, Mrs. Mary Keller, Mrs. Patricia Smith, Mrs. Katherine Fuellhart, and Mrs. Mabel Lauffenberger.

Other prizes were won by: Mrs. Laura Hughes, Mrs. Becky Alexander, Mrs. Sally Gannoe, Mrs. Olive Wanner, Mrs. Kay Frantz and Mrs. Harie Hamilton. Awards were based on best, worst, toughest time and other unique categories.

Mrs. Merle Donaldson, women's golf chairman, advised of the season's scheduled matches and plans, reminding that Wednesday, May 20 play would be preceded by a 9:00 a. m. breakfast. Mrs. Donaldson advised that a 9 hole match would be featured and urged early reservations.

Mrs. Beverly Walters was presented a pin in recognition of achieving a 200 game during the recently ended CVCC Ladies Bowling League series.

Dinner was served at tables attractively accented with lovely geranium plants which were later given as prizes for various card games enjoyed by the some 90 women present.

Students Complete Red Cross Project

Students of the Warren Borough Schools have completed a Junior Red Cross project to aid needy children of the United States and other countries of the world.

Early this spring, the children were organized by George Frits into a working Junior Red Cross Club, with two representatives from each of the Intermediate grades, Junior High and Senior High School.

The home rooms each filled from one to three boxes of personal items which a boy or girl may be able to use for healthful grooming. Some items included in each box were a comb, toothbrush and toothpaste, a toy, soap, and many more personal items.

The club members met at the Red Cross building Wednesday, to pack and make ready these boxes for shipment to the Junior Red Cross headquarters for final distribution.

Spahn Wants No. 300 After Victory 250 Comes, 3-2

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Milwaukee's great Warren Spahn doesn't rate his 250th victory as his biggest thrill because "it's just a stepping stone to the one I really want—No. 300."

The Braves' left-hander posted No. 250 Wednesday night with a seven-hit, 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

It had taken the durable 38-year-old Oklahoman two years and one month to go from No. 200 to No. 250—a goal many believed he might not reach. How about 300?

"I was beginning to think I'd never win this one," Warren said, shaking his head. "You're talking about a mighty steep goal."

"One thing is certain—I'll have to remain a starting pitcher at least two or three more years," he said. "You can't win that many in relief."

"Sure, I feel fine now, but at my age you can't be that certain about the future."

Spahn's 250th victory is amazing when you consider he didn't win his first major league game until he was 25.

"I won't settle for anything less than 20 victories this season," declared the Braves' elder statesman, whose current won-lost record is 4-4.

He failed twice in quest of No. 250 and remarked "these milestones are always tough."

The victory marked Spahn as only the third left-hander in National League history to reach 250. Eppa Rixey won 266 and Carl Hubbell 253.

The only active major leaguer in the 250 class is Chicago White Sox right-hander Early Wynn, with 255.

American Walker Cup Golfers Play Against Good Man

By STERLING SLAPPEY
MILFIELDF, Scotland (AP) — American Walker Cup golfers play this weekend against a man who is so devoted to the thought of beating them that he has hit 600 practice shots a day since October.

The man is Joe Carr, a 37-year-old Irishman who was born and raised on a golf course in Dublin and who has spent much of his time playing golf ever since.

Carr and Reid Jack, a 35-year-old Scottish insurance man, form the backbone of the British Walker Cup team which meets the Americans under Captain Charles Coe in scotch foursomes Friday and in singles Saturday.

The matches will be over Muirfield's 6,806-yard seaside links.

Spahn Is Fifth Left-Handed Pitcher To Win 250 Games

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

In the four score and three years of major league baseball, only four left-handed pitchers ever had won 250 games. Now Warren Spahn is the fifth.

The southpaw put it away Wednesday night, beating the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2, and hoisting the Milwaukee Braves back into the National League lead.

It was Spahn's third shot at No. 250. Now 4-4 for the season, he had lost twice since bagging his 249th victory — which also came against the Cards.

Spahn, who joined American League right-hander Early Wynn (253) of the Chicago White Sox as the only active pitchers with 250 victories, was happy, of course, with Wednesday night's decision, but he accepted it like an old pro. "It's just a stepping stone," he said, "to the one I really want — No. 300."

He figures he might reach 300 if he can stay a starting pitcher for at least two or three more years. Now 38 his age-to-victories ratio is in keeping with that of the other four lefties to win 250. Eddie Plank, an American (and Federal) League player, is the top southpaw winner with 325. Lefty Grove won 300. Eppa Rixey (266) and Carl Hubbell (253) are the only National League left-handers who won more than Spahn.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 6-0 on the two-hit pitching of Sam Jones, the Chicago Cubs rapped Cincinnati 10-0 behind Glen Hobbie's three-hitter, and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 6-4.

Dick Stuart's two-run homer brought the Pirates from behind as they chased Don Drysdale (3-3) with three in the eighth at Los Angeles and slipped the Dodgers a half-game behind Milwaukee. Don Demeter's solo home run had given the Dodgers a 4-3 edge in the sixth against Ron Kline, but reliever Roy Face (5-0) shut them out on three hits over the last three frames.

Jones (3-4) beat the Phils for the fifth time in a row and didn't allow a hit until Willie Jones beat out an infield roller with two out in the seventh. Pinchhitter Gene Freese singled in the eighth for the other hit off Sad Sam, who hit the NL's season high with 12 strikeouts. A three-run homer by Willie Mays high-lighted a five-run Giants' first against former mate Ruben Gomez (0-2).

Ernie Banks' grand-slam homer triggered a seven-run third for the Cubs against Bob Purkey (4-3) as Hobbie (4-3) handed the Reds their third straight loss.

Jamestown Site Choice of EL Prexy for Class A Ball

Veteran sports scribe for Jamestown Post Journal, Frank Hyde, recently wrote a story on the value of a Class A franchise to a community after a visit to Jamestown by Eastern League president.

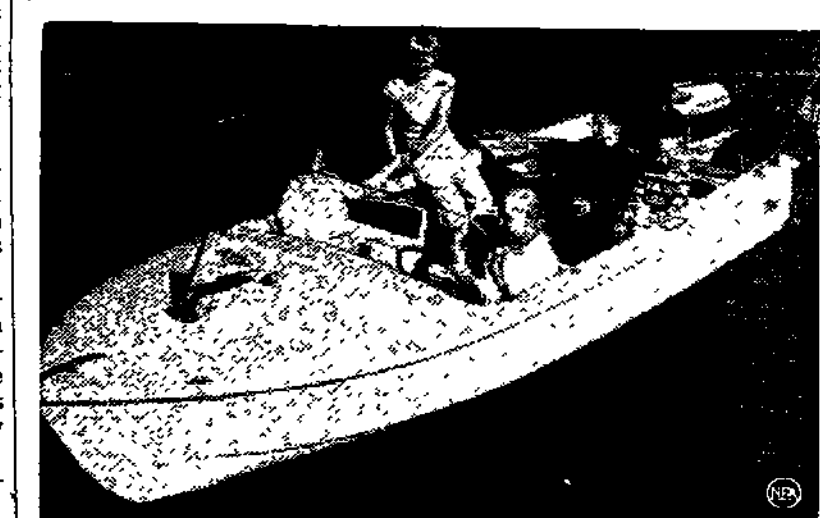

Tommy Richardson, president of the Eastern League, told a group at a luncheon meeting in Hotel Jamestown earlier in the week that a Class A franchise is worth $134,000 annually to a community.

An Eastern League franchise will likely be available in 1960 and Jamestown can have it, but it will take some effort on the part of the community.

The more successful Eastern League operations, Richardson explained, are those supported by a non-profit, community group which makes the ball club a "home owned" proposition.

Richardson said, "You have a fine park. It is a shame to see it idle as far as organized baseball is concerned. I hope something can be worked out because Jamestown is my choice if and when an Eastern League franchise becomes available."

First Boat Buyer Has Several Choices

ON A SUNDAY AFTERNOON—The most popular boat in America today is a 14-foot outboard runabout like this. There is room for all the family for a picnic, fishing or water skiing.

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating

There's no need to start with the smallest boat made when a person buys his first boat. A tiny dinghy or rowing pram would be dangerous, in fact, with the whole family aboard. Nor is a large, heavy rowboat an ideal first choice, unless its price happens to just fit your budget.

Every year a number of well-to-do beginners start with large cabin cruisers. Treating boat and water with respect, they learn.

The most popular pleasure craft in America today is the 14 to 16-foot outboard-powered runabout. Here is a boat with room for a family of four, plus picnic and fishing baskets and water skis. It is an easy boat to learn to handle, and in it you may head out with safety in good weather on an average inland waterway.

A modest-sized outboard can push you along at good speed, and your boat is a size that is easy to trailer.

Should you wish to economize or experiment with different boats at the start, you may buy only the motor, drive with it in your car trunk and rent a boat for your motor at the waterfront. For about $700 on up you can buy a boat and motor.

This is not the amount you should budget for. With this size boat you may miss a lot of fun if you do not have a trailer. Load the boat, hitch up behind your car and extend your boating investment to new lakes and rivers.

Aboard, you will need one approved life preserver cushion, vest or ring for each passenger. Navigation lights and horn are required. Oars or a paddle, anchor and line plus docking lines, a reliable bilge pump, fenders for tying up alongside a dock, tools and spare engine parts are needed. You need a compass if you are heading out on a trip, emergency flares and first aid kit, and for added comfort perhaps a convertible canvas top.

With a larger craft you will want and need additional accessories.

Don't overlook a sailboat as a possible first choice. A sloop-rigged craft of about the same 15-foot size in the day-sailer category can offer a great deal of fun for all the family.

Choose your boat, power or sail from a reputable builder and of a type popular in your area. That way you'll find one suitable for your local wind and water conditions which will maintain a high resale value when you move on to a larger craft.

Get a boat and practice. You will never know all there is about boating, but like many others you may find you can have fun learning.

Regatta At Oil City

Speaking of Sports

We carried a brief account earlier in the week of Ed Moran's mile run against Michigan State Saturday. The former Kane star's time was 4:02.1. Ed ran on Penn's mile relay team which wiped out a five-year-old school record. Their new time was 3:13.5. Moran ran a third leg of 47.8 while anchor man Dick Hambright was clocked at 48.5.

Another school mark was set by Dick Engelbrink for Penn State, in two mile run. His 8:58.9 clocking erased the 9:03.2 set by Horace Ashenfelter in 1949.

Armando Vega was among 12 members of Penn State's national intercollegiate championship gymnastics team who received varsity letters. Dave Palmer, Ernie and Jay Werner, another outstanding Nittany gymnast, each received a letter. Wally Colender, 20, of Trenton, N. J., got the nod to be captain of Penn's 1959-60 cage squad.

Many notables are driving in the three-day Cumberland National Sports Car Races Friday through Sunday. Among the pilots will be Franklin R. Roosevelt, Jr., behind the wheel of an Italian Abarth-Fiat; Walter Cronkite, piloting an Abarth-Fiat. Trenton has a swell program stacked up for Sunday spiced by entries of the two teenaged Mexican racing brothers in the 150-mile NASCAR grand national championship race. Jamestown's Ken Johnston is expected to race. Letty Petty and Al "Speedy" Thompson are among the top drivers entered.

Bob Olson and George Rasmussen, Warren High graduates, Class of '56 and '57 respectively received awards for their scholastic efforts at Thiel college past season. Olson was awarded a letter for wrestling and Rasmussen won a letter in basketball. While in Warren High, Olson was an outstanding matman. Rasmussen was a member of basketball, football and track squads.

Want to transport that cumbersome boat? A new gadget on the market can be of a big help. It's called "Boat-Veyor" and makes possible single-handed loading or unloading of a craft up to 14 feet. A small wheel's attached to the bow, boat is flipped over and rolled right up a mono-rail to the top of the car. The mono-rail folds under the boat, the craft is fastened down and that's that!

Liked the way Ingo Johansson thought on his feet when he said he'd be polite and go to Brian London's corner to greet him in Indianapolis despite past snubs. A writer asked, "Will you pick him off the floor after the fight, too?" Answered Ingo, "No, his father will." Los Angeles Rams have made a unique deal for their five pre-season football exhibitions in the Coliseum—all played on Saturday night. They'll be videotaped over a TV station next day.

Rocky Gerarde stopped by and chatted yesterday. He's had a few days "vacation" while waiting for an injured hand (two stitches) to heal. Tom expected to start work on the light bag today. Gerarde is awaiting a call from Florida from his pro camp instructing him to return. Business was dull so the pro game slowed down, too. . . . Conversed with Don Elbaum recently. He wants to bring Johnny Bizzaro and a card of pros into Warren shortly. Johnny's climbing fast and Warren would be lucky to have him show here. More'll be said later. . . . Joe Fazio, long time trainer and fighter on the local scene, tells us Joe Campagna has been scouting for new recruits for the game. Joe "retired" recently on doctor's orders.

Safety tip to anglers: fish with gasses. Hooks, falls and sharp branches all take their toll of accident yearly. Many of these accidents can be avoided by wearing glasses with safety-hardened lenses. . . . Also a tip to our gun enthusiasts: bottles are not good targets for that .22 rifle. Bullets can glance from them and broken glass is a menace. Find a natural backstop such as a sand bank free of stones and rocks. Set up a paper target, wooden block, empty can or targets that will break easily.

Indians and Yanks in Hassle Over Rescheduling of Game

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

An intermittent rain fell and steady sarcasm flowed at New York's Yankee Stadium Wednesday as Frank Lane and Casey Stengel tangled in the latest round of their verbal feud.

Lane, general manager of the American League leading Cleveland Indians, was miffed because the Yankees called off Wednesday's game. Stengel, manager of the sixth-place world champions, shrugged and snubbed the loquacious Lane, just as he did two months ago in spring training.

"I told everybody this spring," said Lane, "that the Yankees weren't invincible. Now they're inaccessible. You can't find them to play them!"

"Maybe," said Stengel, when informed of Lane's remarks on the postponement, "somebody will talk too much some time."

The afternoon game, the finale of a two-game series which opened with a 7-6 Cleveland victory Tuesday night, was called before noon. Both Lane and Indian manager Joe Gordon expressed surprise that the game wasn't rescheduled for today, an open date for both the Indians and the Yankees.

The Yankees, who explained they don't reschedule games that quickly because they feel it is bad business since they can't publicize the new date properly, said they had been informed that it would rain Wednesday afternoon and today. For the record, there was no rain at game time at the stadium, but it did rain later in the afternoon.

The second-place White Sox won the only game played in the American League Wednesday, closing within a game of the Indians as Bob Shaw blanked the Red Sox on five singles, 4-0 at Boston. Rain washed out the Kansas City at Baltimore and Detroit at Washington games.

Doc Face Gives Ailing Bucs Medicine: Shot from Mound

By CHARLES MAHER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have had some awful pitching headaches this year, but no doctor could prescribe a faster, more efficient remedy than the one they already have.

They get their relief from Roy Face.

The little fireman helped bail them out again Wednesday night, pitching shutout ball for three innings and picking up his fifth victory as the Pirates stopped Los Angeles 6-4. Face hasn't lost yet this season, and, since May 30 of last year, the 155-pound righthander has won 10 in a row and made 19 saves.

His winning streak is the longest in the majors.

Five strikeouts helped Roy in his three-inning stand Wednesday night, and one of his old weapons—the fork ball—figured in four of them.

"I didn't have a change-of-pace when I was with Pittsburgh in 1953," he said, "so they sent me out to get one. I developed the fork ball in the bullpen in New Orleans in 1954."

"It comes in about half speed, like a change-up, but I use the same motion as I do with the fast ball."

"Face has sure taken up a lot of the slack," said Manager Danny Murtagh. "What would we do without him?"

Face relieved starter Ron Kline in the seventh with the Dodgers leading 4-3. He gave up three hits and held the Dodgers scoreless the rest of the way.

Face ran into a little trouble in the ninth, walking the first two batters. But he bore down, forcing the next two batters to fly out and striking out Wally Moon to end the game.

The Pirates took the lead in the eighth on a two-run homer by Dick Stuart. A single by Bob Skinner and a double by Billy Mazaroski gave the Bucs an insurance tally.

Don Drysdale, seeking his eighth consecutive victory in the coliseum, was charged with his third loss of the season against three victories.

The Dodgers got three runs in the fourth on a single and two Pirate errors. The Pirates tied the game at 3-3 in the fifth on doubles by Smoky Burgess and Bill Virdon, a single by Roberto Clemente and a walk.

Don Demeter hit his eighth home run of the season in the sixth to give Los Angeles a temporary lead.

Burgess had two singles in addition to the double and raised his batting average to .413, second in the league.

Local Fisherman Safe After Night Spent in Woods

A fishing trip yesterday ended in an all-night camping trip in the woods for Ralph Johnson, aged 50, of 107 Beatty street.

The man left home Wednesday about 3:00 and went fishing. When he failed to return around 9:00 p. m., his wife solicited the aid of friends to search for Mr. Johnson.

Becoming lost in the area known as the coal mine, Johnson was overcome with darkness and fog. He found a shanty where he stayed during the night.

About 8:00 a. m. today he came out from the Sanden farm.

A search party organized late last evening and worked until 3:00 a. m. today. They were organizing another party this morning when Johnson made his appearance.

Needless to say he spent most of the day in bed.

the Soviet Union after an abortive attempt to establish a satellite Kurdistan in Iran, Iraq and Turkey.

The Khan said Sheikh Raschid's people lacked sufficient ammunition to continue the battle and had to flee. He said the 1,000 refugee families now live in tent settlements not far from here.

Apparently many Kurds preceded Raschid's people across the frontier in a migration which began soon after the Iraqi revolution last July. This country is so rugged, vast and underpopulated that it is easy for Kurds to lose themselves in it.

Public Hearings

"I urged the Legislature to approve his proposal to spend 105 million dollars for maintenance during the next two years. Martin also renewed the administration's plea for 117 million dollars in new revenue. He said the money is needed to qualify the state for an additional 135 million dollars in federal aid in the 1959-61 biennium.

The highways secretary defended the proposed gasoline tax increase, from five cents a gallon to six cents, a $5 increase in the annual $10 passenger car registration fee and a boost from $1 to $3 in the operator's license fee.

Martin denied statements he said were made by at least one private group that Pennsylvania motor fuels taxes already are the highest in the nation.

He presented a chart showing 38 states with higher gasoline taxes than Pennsylvania and 10 others with the same levy.

No further public hearings were scheduled by the subcommittee.

Dillon won a 161 vote of approval from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday by his nomination by President Eisenhower as first undersecretary of state. That is the post Christian A. Herter held before being named secretary of state.

the agreement. In return, the West will agree to East German officials controlling the access routes to Berlin as agents of the Soviets.

An important disagreement remained to be settled between the Americans and British on the one hand and the French and West Germans.

The Americans and British favor a sort of United Nations high commissioner to be posted in Berlin and U.N. supervisors at checkpoints on the access routes. The French, backed by the West Germans, argue that the situation already is complicated enough without introducing the world organization.

Herter, presiding Wednesday, finally got the conference down to business in its third day, when the opening speeches of the for-the previous two days had been spent turning down Gromyko's moves to win a place for East and West Germany and Poland and Czechoslovakia as full participants.

East and West Germany may speak in the conference within certain limits and Gromyko is expected to bring up the question of Poland and Czechoslovakia again.

Homemakers Plan Spring Meet at Wesley Woods

The Spring Countywide Homemakers' meeting, the climax of the adult extension program in Warren county for the past year, will be in the form of a picnic to be held at Wesley Woods Camp (off Route 27 between Garland and Grand Valley) on Wednesday, May 20th from 10:15 a. m. to 2:30 p. m., says Geraldine Johnston, Extension Home Economist.

The theme this year is "New Accents in Family Living". The program will include a demonstration by an outstanding homemaker from Niagara County, New York—Mrs. Helen Lenhart, who will demonstrate the Polly Doll Method of Textile Stencilizing. There will also be demonstrations on "Backyard Cookery" and "Family Fun Outdoors".

A picnic lunch will be served at noon, prepared by Lewis Catering Service, at a price of $1.25 per person. Make your reservations for this picnic with the chairman of your group, or call the Agricultural Extension Office, Warren 2561 by Monday morning, May 18.

Stop-Gap Appropriation Is Approved by House

HARRISBURG (AP)—A 122½-million-dollar stop-gap appropriation to run the state in the new biennium beginning June 1 has been approved by the House.

The vote on the appropriation Wednesday was 171-0. The Senate still has to act on it.

The Senate will have only one more week to do so before the 1959-61 biennium starts since the Legislature will not be in session next week due to the primary election.

Conflicting Testimony In Freepoint Bank Trial

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The former president of the Old Freepoint Bank testified Wednesday he personally loaned $412 to a Butler County man while the bank held a mortgage on the man's home and trailer camp.

Charles L. Sober said under cross-examination that he wrote a personal check for Rudy Kelokey of Portersville.

However, U. S. District Atty. Hubert Teitelbaum said a copy of a ledger from Sober's personal checking account at the Armstrong County bank failed to show such a check was written.

Gunfire Halts Trucks Headed for TVA Plant

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—A barrage of shotgun and rifle fire from three hidden locations in the woods halted a convoy of coal trucks headed for TVA's Kingston steam plant Wednesday night.

Three sticks of dynamite were hurled, but did not explode. No one was injured, but Anderson County deputies said bullets struck the radiators of two of the seven or eight trucks.

The ambush was the latest of a series of violent incidents reported in east Tennessee since the United Mine Workers Union began trying to organize non-union coal operations in the area.

The huge exposition, devoted to research and development of the new products of the '60s, has, in the three years since its start, quadrupled in size to become one of the largest industrial expositions in the country.

This year some 12,000 products valued at $10,000,000 will be shown and 4,000 experts will be on hand to answer visitors' queries. According to Clump & Poliak, Inc., sponsors of the show, visitors will number about 18,000 from every continent.

Available for their inspection will be metal alloys, plastics, synthetic rubber, power transmission equipment, electrical and electronic components, all sorts of mechanical components, various shapes and forms, fasteners and adhesives, finishes and coatings, hydraulic and pneumatic components, engineering equipment and services, and virtually everything else which goes into the making of an industrial or consumer end product.

Concurrently with the show will be an intensive, four-day conference sponsored by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. These sessions will be divided into two days of general meetings and two days devoted to the specialized needs of engineers interested in the use of materials, mechanics or power and control.

Hilltop Has Brief Flurry of Snow Today

KANE, Pa. (AP)—Residents of this northwestern Pennsylvania community were greeted with a brief flurry of snow this morning.

The snowflakes melted as fast as they hit the ground. Residents of Kane, sometimes called the "Ice Box of Pennsylvania," have experienced snow storms in May and records show that traces of snow have been observed in June.

BUTLER COUNTY CAMPAIGN
BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A lively scramble for county commissioner nominations on both the Republican and Democratic tickets features the primary election in Butler County.

Eight GOP and six Democratic candidates are vying for the two nominations for each party. All three commission seats will be filled this year.

One of Most Wanted Captured in El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A nationwide search for Emmett Bernard Kervan, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, ended Wednesday night with his arrest in a garage apartment here.

The 31-year-old Kervan, unarmed and clad in pajamas, didn't resist FBI agents.

Kervan had been sought in connection with the holdup of the East Norwalk, Conn., branch of the Merchants Bank and Trust Co. last Feb. 5. A gunman robbed the bank of $29,445.

FBI Agent Francis Crosby said Kervan apparently arrived in El Paso late in February and rented the garage apartment late in March.

Divers Seek Bodies Of Three Jet Pilots

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C. (AP)—Navy divers attempted today to recover the bodies of three jet pilots whose planes crashed into the Atlantic.

Maj. Gen. Daniel W. Jenkins, deputy commander of the 9th Air Force, will head an investigation into the crash Wednesday of the three F100 Super Sabre Jets. They were part of a night navigation and refueling mission.

Other members of the formation said the three ships suddenly fell from the formation and fell into the water one by one. All exploded. No parachutes were seen.

Bats have fur and well developed teeth. Their young are born alive and nursed at the breast.

Although Buenos Aires is the principal port of Argentina, it is not located on the seacoast.

Ike Demand for Action Puts Self and Congress on Spot

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may have put not only the Democratic Congress but himself on a political spot with his demand for speedy action on highway, housing and wheat legislation.

Eisenhower caught the Democrats by surprise Wednesday with a special message outlining the damage to the economy that may result in these three politically potent fields if Congress dawdles.

There seemed little doubt that Democrats will answer the President's request for emergency action with passage of a series of bills calling for government spending far beyond the limits Eisenhower has said he is willing to accept.

Because he emphasized the critical nature of the problems, Democrats think the President has put himself in a position where he may find it difficult to veto such measures.

Beyond that, the opposition party believes it can use the President's own words — such as his statement there is an "impending disaster in wheat" — to build up strength for attempts to override any vetoes that may be forthcoming.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, acting Senate Democratic leader, made it clear his party has no intention of yielding to Eisenhower's views on important aspects of highway, housing and wheat legislation. A similar reaction came from House Democratic leaders.

Mansfield said, for instance, there is no possibility that Congress will even consider increasing the gasoline tax from 3 to 4 cents a gallon. Eisenhower had asked the increase to finance additional grants to the states for construction of interstate highways.

Information on Contract Talks Being Withheld

NEW YORK (AP)—Contract negotiations resumed today in the basic steel industry but both sides maintained the pattern of not telling whether things are going well or ill.

Since "stripped down bargaining" began earlier this week, spokesmen for both the industry and the steelworkers have given out only generalities at daily news conferences. The talks themselves are secret.

The government apparently is equally in the dark whether its help will be needed to reach an agreement.

Joseph F. Finnegan, National Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said his agency has no present plans for stepping into the talks.

The government's chief labor trouble shooter said he is keeping in close touch with representatives of the steel companies and the United Steelworkers of America. He said he does not believe any useful purpose would be served by intervention at this time.

The contract talks were in recess Wednesday. A four-man team representing the 12 largest steel companies spent the time preparing a formal rejection of the union's demands for higher wages, a shorter work week and other benefits. Current wages average $3.03 an hour and the basic work week is 40 hours.
